

Leadership Development

Often, newer leaders understand the job but struggle to move from simply a title to someone who can influence and effectively lead others.

This mentorship-style development program gives participants actionable insights, confidence, and goal-setting tools to grow as a leader through individual development sessions.

Participants will complete reflection assignments prior to every session. Assignment debrief, discussion, and structured learning topics are covered during the in-person session.

WHO IS THIS FOR?

This 6-session workshop is ideal for high-potential employees and newly promoted leaders. Each session is 60-90 minutes in length.
